

Turning Points In Compassion: Personal Journeys of Animal Advocates

Harold Brown suffered a heart attack at the age of eighteen due to his heavy consumption of animal products. As a cattle farmer he didn't realize that his livelihood could cause so much damage. His extended family of farmers, the local community, youth organizations and TV were telling him one thing: Animal products are good. Harold truly believed he was doing good work, living a good life and being a good person. For the better part of his life he was not a conscious participant in what was happening. But deep down he felt uncomfortable with the things he was expected to do: Castrating calves, killing rabbits with his bare hands, and beating cows onto trailers. Until the day a doctor told him to expect bypass surgery by the age of 35. In an attempt to save his life, Harold embarked on a journey into veganism. Along the way he discovered the true meaning of compassion and found a new ethical foundation upon which to live his life. Harold's story is just one of the sixty-three inspirational personal stories from some of the most eloquent, passionate and intellectually progressive voices in today's Animal Rights movement.

Turning Points in Compassion will take you on a journey that will make you challenge the belief that our relationships with animals are set in stone. - Learn why farmers are giving up farming because of the damage they are doing. - Hear from the doctors who say your meat-based diet is killing you. - Discover inspiring tales of people who have put their lives on hold to save animals in need. - See how you can eat your way to a healthier and more ethical life, for your whole family. - Meet the people fighting behind the scenes for animal rights. - Challenge your beliefs on food and animal welfare. Each story is a powerful testimony to the capacity of individuals to transform the worldview inherited from previous generations. As a result, new paradigms replace the old.

Already awarded Vegan of the Year in the category of Outstanding Creative, Turning Points in Compassion reveals a movement that will benefit ourselves, the animals and the planet. Without question, you will not be left unchallenged by this book. A remarkable, inspirational exploration of plant-based eating.-G.A. PhD, Founder and Director, The Kerulos Center.
